Peter provides a full range of legal services to a diverse range of corporate clients and senior executives on contentious and non-contentious employment law issues.

Peter has significant experience of all forms of employment disputes, including unfair/wrongful dismissal, application to restrain dismissals, discrimination, redundancies, both individual and collective, and industrial relations.

On non-contentious matters, Peter advises on all employment issues arising in the course of the employment relationship and in connection with business acquisitions/re-organisations.

Peter is also an experienced commercial litigator. He has acted for a number of clients in Commercial Court cases arising from shareholder/boardroom disputes in both private and public companies.

Peter is a CEDR (Centre for Effective Dispute Resolution) accredited mediator and has considerable mediation experience both in relation to employment and commercial disputes.

He is a frequent conference speaker on employment law issues and is regularly involved in providing training to clients.

RECOMMENDATIONS

Chambers Europe Law Directory 2013

Peter is listed as a Leading Individual in Chambers Europe Law Directory –

“Peter does not get caught up in the jargon but is succinct and explains things in layman's terms. He highlights courses of action for the best and worst-case scenarios.”
